

Jeff Gartman

Friday, 26 September 2008

Jeff Gartman

Hitting the Delmarva airwaves in July 2008, Jeff Gartman is the newest voice to join the list of WGMD talk show hosts. In addition to WGMD Jeff is also a full time father of three, husband and high school teacher. So what is his show about?

"I don't really approach my show as being about anything. I talk about the stories of the day from my own perspective. I'm someone who's sick of criminals walking free, politicians lying every time they open their mouths, freeloaders living off my tax dollars and generally anyone who isn't taking care of their responsibilities. I think that strikes a chord with decent, hard-working people… in other words, most Americans."

Being a parent and teacher, Jeff also looks at issues from the perspective of the impact on the next generation.

"The single most important thing anyone can do is raise their kids the right way. If everyone made that their top priority then we'd see a decrease in crime, welfare and other undesirable areas of society, as well as an increase in everything from test scores to the marriage rate."

If you'd like to join in the conversation you can listen to The Jeff Gartman Show on WGMD Radio:

Saturdays: 6-9am

Sundays: 6am-1pm

(in between Specialty Programming)
Send Email to jeff@wgmd.com

Heard on the Jeff Gartman Show: 9-20-09- filmmaker Will Hylar - The Fish Belong to the People