

Governor Markell signs law adding sexual orientation to Delaware's anti-discrimination law

Friday, 03 July 2009

Governor Markell has signed a law adding sexual orientation to Delaware's anti-discrimination law in front of a cheering crowd of more than 150 at Camp Rehoboth. Markell says it took an effort on the part of lawmakers and citizens working together to bring the 11-year battle to expand the law to a successful conclusion.

{mp3}sb1211{/mp3}

The new law took effect upon Markell's signature.

.