

Valero cited for workplace safety and health violations at oil refinery

Friday, 03 July 2009

Valero Energy Corporation has been cited for workplace safety and health violations at its Delaware City oil refinery. the violations carry proposed fines totaling $over 107-thousand dollars, according to The U.S. Department of

Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration

.